This architectural elevation drawing illustrates the proposed work on a house. The roof is shown with a gable end on the left and a main ridge. Several 'New Roof Windows' are indicated by lines pointing to specific locations on the roof. A 'New Roof Light' is shown on the right side of the roof. The main body of the house is labeled 'Body render finish'. A 'Replacement Garage' is indicated by a bracket at the base of the left side. A 'Stone to DPC' label points to the base of the wall on the right. The drawing includes a small inset showing a plan view of the garage area.
