2 cottages, probably formerly one house, late C17th, altered. Rubble with roof of slate and stone slate. 2 storeys with attic. No. 14 (to the left) has a window with cement reveals on the ground floor, with a 3-light mullioned window with outer chamfer and inner hollow chamfer on the 1st floor. Door with crude plain stone surround to the right, chimney at the left. No. 12 has a window with plain stone surround, with a 3-light mullioned window with outer chamfer and inner hollow chamfer on the 1st floor. Above is a small attic window with plain reveals. Door, to the left, has crude plain stone surround. Chimney at the right-hand end. A change in stonework suggests that the eaves of both houses have been raised.

II

House and shop, late C18th. Square coursed stone front with sandstone dressings and slate roof, hipped at the left-hand side. 2 storeys, 2 bays, with a one-bay extension to the right over a yard entrance. Windows have plain stone surrounds and are sashed with glazing bars except the left-hand ground-floor window which is sashed and the window over the yard entrance which is sashed with no glazing bars. The door, between the 2 bays of the main house, has a plain stone surround. Its upper 4 panels are raised and fielded. Above on the 1st floor is a worn sandstone plaque, now illegible. Moulded eaves cornice. Chimneys to the right of bay one and bay two.
