GISBURNE PARK HOSPITAL

PLANNING DESIGN & ACCESS AND HERITAGE STATEMENT

NOVEMBER 2012

1. BACKGROUND

1. Applications were made in 2011 for signage at Gisburne Park Hospital, 3/2011/0117 under the Advertisement Regulations and 3/2011/0260 for Listed Building Consent. The former resulted in a split decision, with ten signs approved and seven refused. The latter was approved, although a condition was used to qualify the decision by withdrawing the approval in respect of the same seven conditions.
2. Subsequent to these decisions the applicants sought clarification from the LPA as to the manner in which the refused signs "would be unduly harmful to the character and significance of the listed building", as described in the decision notices. They also questioned whether some of the signs affected the character of the building, thereby making LBC unnecessary, or benefitted from deemed consent under the Advert Regs. The LPA's response took longer than the time allowed for an appeal under the Advertisement Regulations and was then inconclusive.
3. The applications now submitted are made in respect of the refused signage, excepting signs 1 and 51, which were to be displayed inside the building and which were only part of the listed building application. They are prefaced by the assertion that, for reasons set out below, some or all of the signs do not actually require permission under the Advert Regulations and/or The Planning (LB & CA) Act 1990.

THE PROPOSED SIGNS

4. Sign C – the sign measures 1.07m x 0.61m (0.65 sq. m) and would be fixed to railings within the grounds of the hospital. It would be a directional sign, assisting visitors in finding the entrance to the building.
5. The hospital is a private facility and is not, therefore, on land to which the public have a right of access. It is enclosed land to which, under Class A of Schedule 1 of the Advert Regulations, the need for approval under Part 3 (Express Consent) does not apply. Although permission was sought under application 3/2011/0117, it was not necessary. The LPA should, therefore, have confirmed that this was the case and not proceeded to determine it. The application invites this confirmation now.

6. Under S7 of the Planning (LB & CA) Act 1990, listed building consent is not required for works which do not demolish, extend or alter a listed building in such a way as to affect its character as a listed building. While pre-1948 structures within the curtilage of a listed building are treated in the same way as the building itself, the metal railings to which Sign C is to be attached is neither a listed building nor a curtilage building/structure. Permission for the sign is not required under S7 as the proposal does not demolish, extend or alter a listed building.
7. New legislation (Enterprise and Regulatory Reform Bill/Act) will amend S26 of the Planning (LB & CA) Act so as to allow formal rulings on the need for LBC. This application anticipates that facility and invites the LPA to confirm that Sign C does not require LBC.
8. Sign G1 – the sign is to measure 0.36m x 0.60m (0.22 sq. m). Fixed to a column at the main entrance of the building, it will identify the presence of the reception. The aluminium sign will be fixed to the wall by screws drilled into the mortar joints.
9. Under the Advert Regulations the sign does not need express consent for a number of reasons, as follows:
 - It is on enclosed land (Class A, Schedule 1)
 - It is smaller than 0.3 sq. m and relates to the building on which it is displayed for the purpose of identification (Class 2A, Schedule 3).
 - It is smaller than 1.2 sq. m and relates to a medical facility, with no other signs benefitting from deemed consent at this entrance (Class 2C, Schedule 3)
 - It relates to the goods/services provided on business premises (Class 5, Schedule 3).
10. Whether or not the sign needs LBC depends on two questions – does it alter the listed building and, if so, does the alteration affect the character of the building as a whole? The applicants invite the LPA to conclude that the answer is “no” to both questions.

11. Signs G2 and G3 – the signs are smaller (0.1m x 0.1m = 0.01 sq. m), the same size as the doorbell casing next to which they would be fixed. One invites use of the bell by visitors needing assistance and the other identifies the building as one in which smoking is prohibited.
12. As with Sign G1, the signs do not need Advert Regs approval under Class A of Schedule 1 and/or Class 2A of Schedule 3.
13. As with Sign G1, the signs to not affect the character of the listed building.
14. Sign I – Sign I is a disclaimer notice to be displayed within the visitor car park. It would measure 0.3m x 0.4m (0.12 sq. m). As with other signs, the sign may be displayed without the need for express consent. It is to be located on enclosed land, not readily visible from outside the site and on land to which there is no public right of access (Class A, Schedule 1). It is a sign displayed for the purpose of warning and is below the 0.3 sq. m threshold (Class 2A, Schedule 3). It is to be displayed in respect of a medical facility at the premises to which it relates, and is below the 1.2 sq. m allowance (Class 2C, Schedule 3).
15. The wall to which the sign is to be affixed is within the curtilage of the listed building. It is not, however, part of the building itself. The sign does not affect the character of the principal structure, nor does it constitute an alteration or extension to that structure. As such, the applicants take the view that LBC should not be required. Even if a contrary view were taken, there would be no adverse impact on either the listed building or on its protected landscape setting, given the sign's location in a car park and its position on a boundary wall.
16. Sign M – this sign is a directional sign, advising visitors of the route to the overflow car park area. It would be affixed to a brick wall enclosing the car park area. The refused sign was to measure 1.408m x 0.22m (0.31 sq. m) and, under Class A of Schedule 1, Parts 2 and 3 of the Advertisement Regulations do not apply to such a sign when, as in this case, it is situated on enclosed land. Under Class 2A of Schedule 3 the sign would be fractionally too large to benefit from deemed consent, where the threshold for directional signage such as this is 0.3 sq. m. As Class A applies, the deemed consent issue is not relevant, but, if it were, the sign would be reduced in length from 1.408 metres to 1.36 metres, thereby reducing its overall size to 0.299 sq. m.

17. This sign is not on a significant or historic part of the listed building. It does not alter or extend the listed building, and, under S7 of the Planning (LB & CA) Act 1990, does not require listed building consent. If LBC were required, then the sign, which could not be seen from either the garden or the building cannot reasonably be considered to have an adverse impact upon either, so there is, and was, no reason to withhold the permission.
18. Sign N – the sign is of the same dimensions as Sign I (0.12 sq. m) and it too would be fixed to the stone wall, in this case in a more remote location. Its purpose is one of warning and identification, indicating the nature of the car park, so, as above, the sign is either excluded from advert control altogether (Class A, Schedule 1) or it benefits from deemed consent (Class 2A, Schedule 3), probably both,
19. Although it will be fixed to the stone wall, it would be of a modest size, positioned discreetly on a large expanse of wall well away from the principal building. It does not alter or extend the listed building and it does not affect the character of the building, or ancillary structures, as a listed building.

HERITAGE, DESIGN & ACCESS

20. Gisborne Park is a Grade I listed country house of 1727-1736 set within an extensive designed historic landscape which includes a walled garden with gardener's cottage. Pevsner (Building of England: Yorkshire West Riding, 2001) states that the house is 'very plain' from the outside but inside there is plenty of very fine Rococo plasterwork. The list description refers to the interior as having "very fine Baroque plasterwork by Artari, Quadri and Vassalli in the entrance hall, the drawing room to the right of it, a smaller room behind that, and the stair hall in the west wing. All have elaborate ceilings' with scrollwork compositions apart from the stair hall where the present ceiling, incorporating an oval domed toplight, is of the late C19th. All apart from the drawing room also have enriched wall-panels, those to the stair hall being particularly elaborate, with some bas-relief figures..."

21. Pevsner also notes that the approach from the south is marked by two charming gate lodges (Grade II* listed) in a fanciful Gothick of c.1800, said to have been designed by the then Lord Ribblesdale and, to the left and right, heavy castellated parapets with short turrets (Grade II listed) marking the entrances of a short railway tunnel.
22. English Heritage has also added Gisburne Park to the National Register of Historic Parks and Gardens for England. A Historic Landscape Management Plan was completed in October 2010. The plan explains the historical development and significance of the landscape, dividing the estate into a series of character areas, identifying important features within the landscape, designed views and defining policies to care for the estate (EH 2011).
23. Oxford Archaeology North have undertaken an archaeological assessment of the walled garden at Gisburne Park. In respect to walled garden survival, the assessment states that the garden has been subject to considerable landscape changes since the estate was broken up and sold off in 1944. In particular, the western part of the garden has been severely altered to accommodate the needs of a stable yard, and the construction of a swimming pool and tennis court have further impacted the central section of the garden. The original garden walls, as depicted on the 1909 Ordnance Survey Plan, were 432m in extent; of these 201m of walling are still standing and a further 24m of the line of the wall survives as an earthwork. This would indicate that 46% of the garden walls still survive. Of the 14 buildings/structures associated with the garden that were shown on the 1909 plan, only 4 still survive today and comprise the cottage, two small outbuildings against the southern garden wall and the 'turret' surround for the northern garden entrance. None of the soft landscaping elements, such as the footpaths or beds, still survive, and only 3 of the original trees have survived, in the south eastern corner of the garden.
24. No 1 and The Dower House, Park Road, on the approach to Gisburne Park, are Grade II listed buildings.

25. The Gisburn Conservation Area Appraisal (April 2007) shows the immediate approach to the gate lodges to be a Significant Open Space. Included within the Summary of special interest is 'the tranquil Park Lane, with its 'polite' architecture, gatehouses and park boundary walls (in General character and plan from it is also described as being a 'haven of gentility'). Origins and historic development states 'the entrance to the park from the Main Street is a very attractive part of the conservation area'. The application site is not, however, within the conservation area.
26. The Heritage Asset is therefore extensive but much altered. The impact of a number of small signs on buildings and structures which cover such a wide area is modest, all the more so when all seven signs for which permission is sought cover a total of only 1.44 sq. m. Some signs are prominent, as they must be when giving directions to drivers within the context of a hospital complex. None obscure any features of particular architectural interest or views of the same. None materially affect the character of the building as a listed building nor that of the ancillary buildings of structures. Signage around a hospital complex is essential for the well-being of patients and the convenience of visitors. The proposed signs would serve their intended function discreetly but effectively and, in the event that they are no longer needed would be removed without damage to the listed building's fabric. The scale, location, materials, size and appearance of the signage is appropriate.
27. The applicants maintain their view that listed building consent is not actually needed but submit that there is to be no adverse impact on the character of the heritage asset. There are no implications as regards accessibility.

CONCLUSIONS

28. It is the applicants' submission that none of the signs require either Advert Regulations approval or Listed Building Consent. On this basis it was an error to include the signs on the previous application and for the LPA to determine the application for signage that did not actually need permission. It is their further submission that the LPA was incorrect in reaching the conclusions that led to its refusal to permit seven of the signs for which permission was erroneously sought.

29. It is accepted that, under the Advert Regulations (Reg'n 14) the LPA has the power to issue a split decision, approving some signs and refusing others, but it is open to question whether the same facility applies to applications for listed building consent where, under S22 of the Planning (LB & CA) Act 1990, a split decision appears to rest a) with the Secretary of State, and b) in respect of appeals only. That being the case, it may well be that condition 5 of planning permission 3/2011/0260 was unlawfully used and that all of the signs, including those of which permission is now re-sought, were approved anyway.
30. The whole process was something of a mess, compounded by the LPA's unwillingness to address these issues when asked to do so following the earlier decisions.
31. As unauthorised works to a listed building and the unauthorised display of advertisements constitute an offence, and, as the post-app/pre-app submissions proved inconclusive, the applicants are forced into a position in which they make applications for works which in their view, do not require permission.
32. The applications are commended to Ribble Valley Borough Council.
