

The diagram illustrates a floor plan for two adjacent residential units, labeled 62 and 58. A red vertical line serves as a boundary between the two units. Unit 62, on the left, features a kitchen area with three square windows, a living area with a sofa, and a bedroom with a bed. Unit 58, on the right, includes a living area with a sofa and a bedroom with a bed. A car is depicted parked in front of Unit 58. The units are separated by a red line, and the overall layout is shown within a larger rectangular frame.
