Dear Adrian and Nicola,

Apologies for the delayed response, I remember seeing the original mail with the photos as the building stands at present but I obviously didn't reply to it.

Looking at the photos I don't think we would achieve a great deal by any detailed recording as the interior of the building is completely gone. A photographic record of what remains to record the fireplaces etc that are still hanging on the end wall would be useful but anything more than a rapid photographic record would seem to be overkill at this stage.

Regards

Peter McCrone
