A 3D architectural rendering of a modern two-story house. The main house features a light-colored wood-paneled facade on the left side and a white facade on the right side. The roof is dark grey with several skylights. A large glass door with a black frame leads into the house. To the right of the main house is a single-story garage with a dark grey garage door and a light-colored wood-paneled side. The house is set on a dark grey base, and the background is white.
