Hello.

I received a letter on 7.02.2023 despite it being dated on the 20.12.2022

I have tried numerous times to comment on the application comments on the website however my address number is not shown on the drop down box, therefore I am contacting yourselves this way with my concerns.

1) Despite planning which has already been granted, I am very concerned of the size, height of the proposed plans as I feel this is not within the keeping of the surrounding area and also [REDACTED] will be jeopardised in the sense that the occupants will have [REDACTED] I am extremely extremely uncomfortable with this.

2) Garage. There is already permission granted for an extra large garage at the side of the house, however now they have now applied for further planning permission to create another large garage, with three windows, a front door and a bathroom. ([REDACTED] further down the line) I am not happy with a bathroom being located [REDACTED]

3) There are already numerous mature trees [REDACTED] which I am concerned may be damaged or destroyed, when the footings are being dug.

4) The amendments to plans which I am receiving and disagree with, seem to be coming thick and fast and once granted it seems a new one is being requested. I am concerned about when this is going to end. This is becoming very stressful.

Please could you add my comments from this email to the online portal.
