Re : Billington Moor, Moor Lane, Whalley

I have owned the land and farm business at the above address for approximately 20 years and have farmed it since that time. The property consists of 42 acres and a farm yard with 3 agricultural buildings, one used for housing cattle, one used for storage of equipment and one used as lambing shed. This property is approximately half a mile from Moor End Head Farm.

In 2021 my father passed away and left me the property and farm at Moor End Head Farm (88 acres). Since taking over this farm I have obtained planning permission for 2 new agricultural buildings one for housing cattle and one for housing sheep at lambing time. These buildings are due to be erected in the next two months.

Now that I am living at Moor End Head Farm and will have new, more modern, agricultural buildings on the site of my home the buildings at Billington Moor are no longer required and will therefore become derelict. I intend to continue to use the majority of the land at Billington Moor for summer grazing of livestock but have no use for the buildings whatsoever.
