Dear Ben,

Thank you for your consultations.

We have commented on previous applications for alterations to this property and our comments are applicable to these applications

To reiterate:

Thank you for your consultations on the above planning applications. The proposed development site is outside the presumed bounds of medieval Clitheroe and we have no indication that the external works would impact any buried archaeological remains, beyond those that will have been associated with the original construction of this terrace of houses. Any other matters can be dealt with by your Conservation Officer.

Regards
