Comments: The proposed air source heat pump has a noise level of 65dB. This is unacceptable due to the [REDACTED]. This would severely hinder [REDACTED]. The puzzling thing is there are plenty of other models with half the noise pollution. I would not oppose one of these. Due the above I strongly oppose this application.

Comments: The proposed air source heat pump has an unacceptable noise level of 65DB. The location is very close [REDACTED] which would hinder [REDACTED]. There are other heat pumps available with half the noise pollution. Why can't these be used? I strongly contest this application but would have no issue with another model with a more acceptable noise label.
