

Scheme to cover the slurry tank

Storage tank covers are made to suit the tank. The materials we are resistant to manure and other aggressive liquids and chemicals. Tensioned over the tank roof with manholes to allow easy access, they are designed these to ensure ultimate protection and coverage. Material is all high frequency welded for integrity load bands every 1000mm from the centre cap to the sides. Heavy-duty straps, ratchet centre pole and hatch covers are all included for a full installation kit.

These covers limit both emissions and odours of hazardous gases for both environmental and human safety. They are particularly useful during very cold and snowy conditions, providing an extra layer of frost protection.
