Comments: This will cause issues with visibility on the bend entering the cul-de-sac, the plans are in correct and who the existing gate in the wrong place. This will impact [REDACTED] and involves the removal of nature trees. This area of grass is for the benefit of the cul-de-sac and was it meant to be part of no 6 the fence would have been erected to include this on the initial build. The owners chose to put and extension on their property and now want to take land of the estate because they have lost so much garden space with the extension.
