A photograph of a garden area. In the foreground, there are several black raised garden beds filled with soil, some with small plants. To the right, there is a greenhouse with a glass roof and walls. Behind the greenhouse, there is a large, dense evergreen tree. To the left, there is a white house with a grey roof. A red line is drawn along the roofline of the house, and a yellow line is drawn along the boundary of the garden area. The sky is blue with some light clouds.
