Your Comments: All though the land does not belong to anyone they have just sold off a large portion of their land for an undisclosed amount and now want to claim more land outside the boundry.
The wooden shed being so close the cars will be a fire risk.

We have lots of wild flowers on this land which attract lots of bees and insects.

during the summer months we love sit outside and do not want a shed staring at us we would also see this from our bedroom.

The wall is a lovely feature and if this was given permission the house next door will probably follow the lead and extend their garden.
