Your Comments: We did not receive a neighbour notification letter, we were informed by someone else about this application, hence the late submission.

If this PDR application – Class A, had been for livestock with slurry and sewage housing I am sure we can all agree that it would not be allowed, as it is well within the 400m exclusion zone of the curtilage of my house, [REDACTED]

However, as the application has been made to protect agricultural vehicles and animal feed I would have no objection to it being built on the basis of getting answers to the questions below.

Questions

1. It does seem very big in comparison to the size of a farm of 260 acres, help me to understand why is it necessary to be so huge?
2. Will we be affected by light pollution at night?
3. Will there be any noise pollution emanating from the building when we are asleep?
4. What colour will the wall facing my property be, will it be sympathetic to the landscape?
5. Is there any intention to apply for a change of use, to the housing of livestock in the near or distant future.
6. Can the council make it a condition of approval that there will not be any change of use in the future in relation to point 5.
